

Dear Parents

Saltmine Theatre Company are returning to school on Thursday next week (8th) to put on their production of The Three Musketeers. We have managed to book them between two other performances on their current tour – quite a catch. Last year’s reviews of this production were extremely good throughout the country.

The production will be in the school hall at 2pm and over in time for pupils to be collected at 4pm. Years 3-11 are attending and there will be a charge of £5 placed on their bill. There are a few spare places for parents should you wish to attend (with any appropriately aged children). These places are free with an opportunity to make a donation to the school charities should you so wish. Please let reception know if you would like to attend.

Please bear in mind that it is a long performance (with an interval) and there is some sword fighting in the production . Please also note that I have restrained myself from making any corny pantomime references in this attachment.

Oh, no I haven't,

Stephen Hayes
